

Friday 21st May 2020

Happy Friday Everybody,

Today we are going to listen to the very famous poem of The Owl and The Pussy Cat by Edward Lear

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=\_3lq1i67VaE&app=desktop

I want you to listen carefully and every time you hear a word that rhymes, I want you to tap your nose, just like we do at school.

Can you think of any other poems you enjoy? Ask your grown-up to help you look up some more poems on the internet or in books you may have at home.

Now go to <https://whiterosemaths.com/homelearning/early-years/> and choose Summer Term Week 5, Day 5 activity. Today you are going to be looking at the length of different worms and putting them into order.

Today is the last day before the half-term holidays and so there is no homework for you next week and you can have a break from all your hard work and put your feet up and have a well-earned rest!

To celebrate breaking up, I want you to find your favourite song on you tube and go absolutely bananas dancing around your living room to it! That is exactly what I will be doing!

Have a lovely half-term and we will see you all again soon.
