

Monday 15th June

The original 3 ingredients on a pizza were tomato paste or sauce (but not Heinz!) homemade, mozzarella cheese and fresh basil. I gave you a clue sending you the picture.

At the end of the week it is the first day of Summer, what does that mean?

English

I would like you to do activity 1. Then can you ask your family or extended family if they have ever been to London, can you ask them what they saw? What did they do? If you can you could then write down their answers. If they haven't been to London you could ask them about other places in the UK.

Maths

Can you work through the activities? I know some of you have done some of this before, but we need to keep practicing ready for when we return to school. You could also do Jack Hartman counting in 2's.
