

Wednesday 3rd June

Hello,

Today you will receive the work for today plus the topic and science work. Remember that you have a week to complete these and you can always explore some more. I will be calling you this week, so let me know what you were up to last week and you can ask me any questions you have.

English

Today we are revisiting similes and metaphors. We have learnt about these in school and during our home learning time. They are an expected part of the Year 3 curriculum, so we need to be able to identify them in our reading and use them in our writing. Follow the link below to find the learning clips and suggested activities.

Maths

We are returning to our fractions learning this week. I know some of you found the last fractions work a little tricky, but do not give up. I know with some practise and some help you can do this. Remember you can send me a message to call you if you are stuck.

We are using the White Rose maths and our lesson today is called 'Unit and non-unit Fractions' – Summer Term – week 5. Follow the link for the learning clip which you can watch as many times as you need, and the work has been sent separately.

Well done and speak soon
