

Year 4 Friday 1st May 2020

Hi everyone,

So, today for English please look at yesterday's lesson: Thursday 30th April - it's all about inverted commas - or speech marks, which we know loads about! This work will be really good revision for you to practise how we punctuate direct speech. I expect that again, you'll rise to these challenges really successfully!

Here is the link:

There are two video clips to watch, and before you ask, I don't know who that Mr Smith is, but have a go at joining in and copying his moves to help you remember the rules of speech!

Rules of Speech

- Anything said out loud goes inside speech marks " and "
- After opening speech marks always use a capital letter
- Before closing speech marks you need closing punctuation of , ? or !
- After closing speech marks you will need to finish the sentence with a .
- New speaker new line!

Then you can try:

1. With pencil and your blue book try to complete the quiz, can you get all 5 right?
2. Have a go at the comic strip speech task - either print out the sheet or just copy the sentences into your book.
3. Try being a teacher for a change and spotting and correcting the mistakes - again either on the sheet if you can print it out or rewriting the sentences with corrections straight into your books.

Remember to check each time that you've followed all the rules of speech. I bet you'll be great at this - see how well you can impress your adults at home with your speech punctuation skills! 😊
